

[Your Full Name]

[Email Address]

[Date]

To the Board of the III International Conference on Gender and Education: Feminist Weaves in Education

Subject: Application for the Pre-conference Event

Dear Members of the Conference Board,

I am writing to express my strong interest in participating in the pre-conference event organised as part of III International Conference on Gender and Education: Feminist Weaves in Education. As a [current academic and/or professional status and/or role in the sphere of activism and advocacy] in [your field/discipline], I am eager to benefit from the opportunity to engage with experienced academics and activists, enhance my research skills, and expand my professional network.

Academic Background and Research Interests

Briefly outline your academic and/or professional trajectory, current position, main research focus and/or central subject of your activism. Highlight any relevant coursework, projects, publications, campaigns or groundwork that demonstrate your commitment to the field of gender and education.

Motivation for Participation

Explain why you are applying to the Pre-Conference School. For example:

Desire to strengthen methodological and/or theoretical expertise.

Desire to learn how to carry out intersectional feminist research and maximise its impact in terms of publishing and policymaking.

Interest in learning from established scholars in the field of gender studies in education.

Aspiration to gain visibility and connect with peers and mentors in the field.

Expected Benefits and Contributions

Describe what you hope to gain from the workshops and networking sessions, and how this experience will support your academic and/or professional career and/or your trajectory as an activist.

Mention how you plan to contribute to discussions, share your perspectives, and engage actively with fellow participants.

Future Goals

Conclude with a statement about your academic, professional and/or activist aspirations, and how the Pre-Conference School aligns with your long-term objectives.

Thank you for reviewing my application. I am excited about the prospect of joining this enriching programme and contributing meaningfully to the Pre-Conference School.

Yours sincerely,

[Your Full Name]

Notes for Applicants

- Keep the letter 1 page maximum.
- Tailor the motivation and expected benefits sections to the specific themes of the conference and pre-conference event.
- If applicable, mention previous conference participation, teaching, or outreach activities to show engagement with the field.
- Please remember to fill in the form available on our website and send your motivation letter to the Conference Committee by email at the following address educacio.genere@uab.cat no later than 30th June 2026.