

EYLBID

multiplier event

Children and teenagers take an important role in migratory processes. Schooling and linguistic immersion in the new society help children learn the official language(s) of the new country faster than their parents might do. For this reason, these bilingual young people are the ones in their families who carry out the hard work of interpreting and translating to mediate communication between themselves and the outside world, between minority and majority communities.

EYLBID (Empowering Young Language Brokers for Inclusion in Diversity) will contribute to the visibility of the child language brokering. It is particularly aimed at secondary school students and teachers and offers teaching materials and resources in various languages (Catalan, English, German, Italian and Spanish) on the theme of linguistic and cultural inclusion.
