

Daniel Y. C.
Fung

食品微生物博士

馮 貽 澤 教授

Professional Titles

- Professor of Animal Sciences and Industry
- Professor of Food Science
- Ancillary Professor of Biology
- Director of Rapid Methods and Automation in Microbiology Workshop
- Director of Detection Center National Alliance for Food Safety and Security

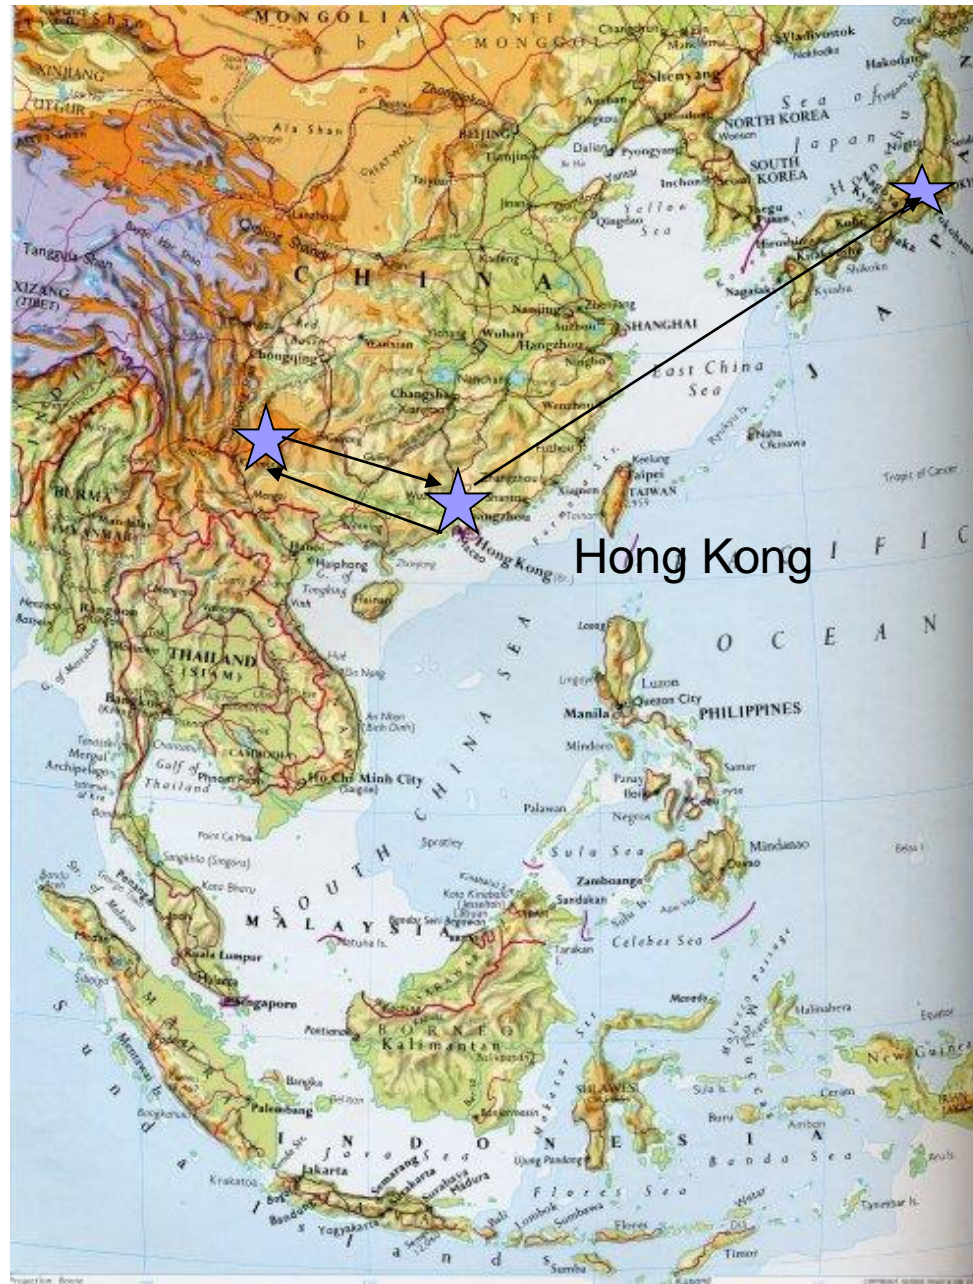

Education and Experience

- B.A. 1965 International Christian University, Tokyo, Japan
- M.S.P.H. 1967 University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
- Ph.D. 1969 Iowa State University
- 1969-1978 Assistant Professor and Assistant Director for Administration Pennsylvania State University
- 1978-1981 Assistant Professor KSU
- 1979-1987 Chair, KSU Food Science Graduate Program
- 1981-1985 Associate Professor KSU
- 1985-current Professor KSU

Kunming

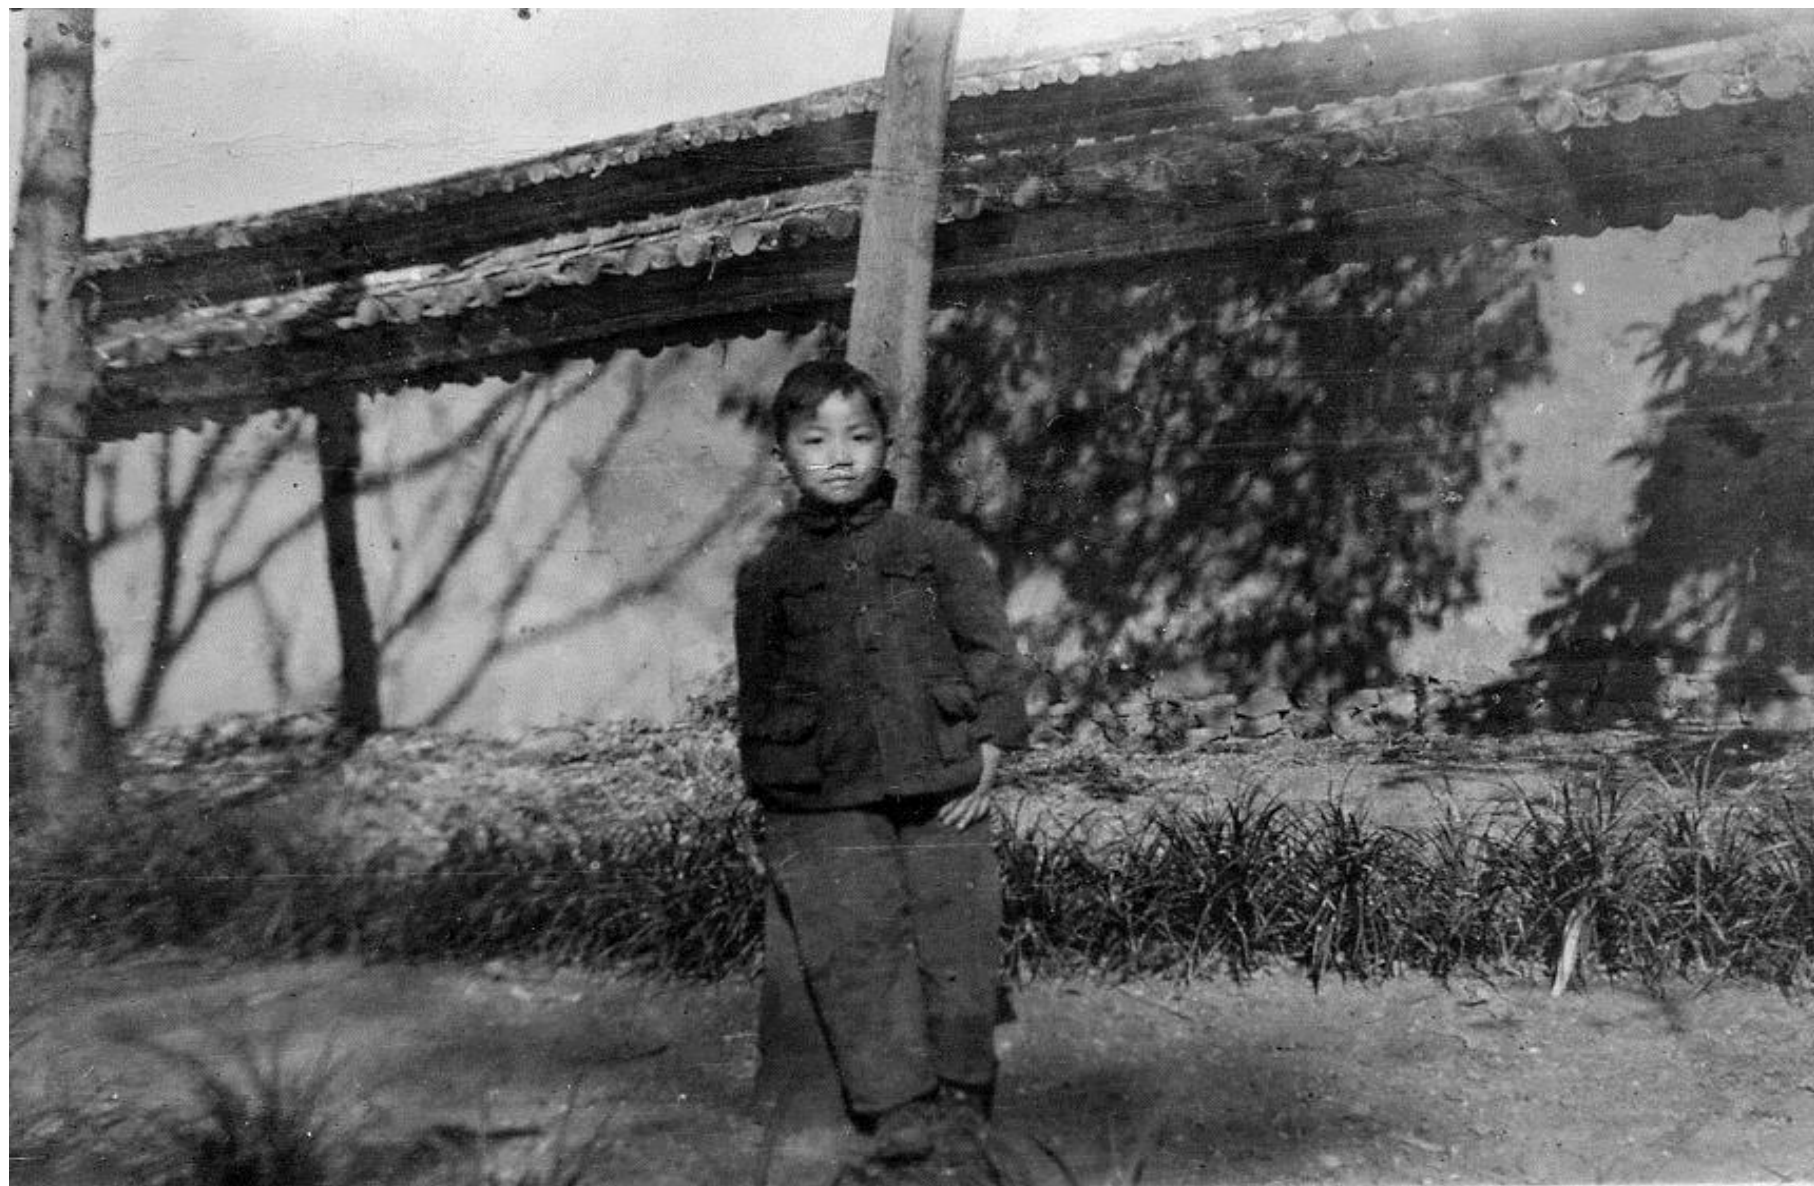

Tokyo

Hong Kong

Hong Kong

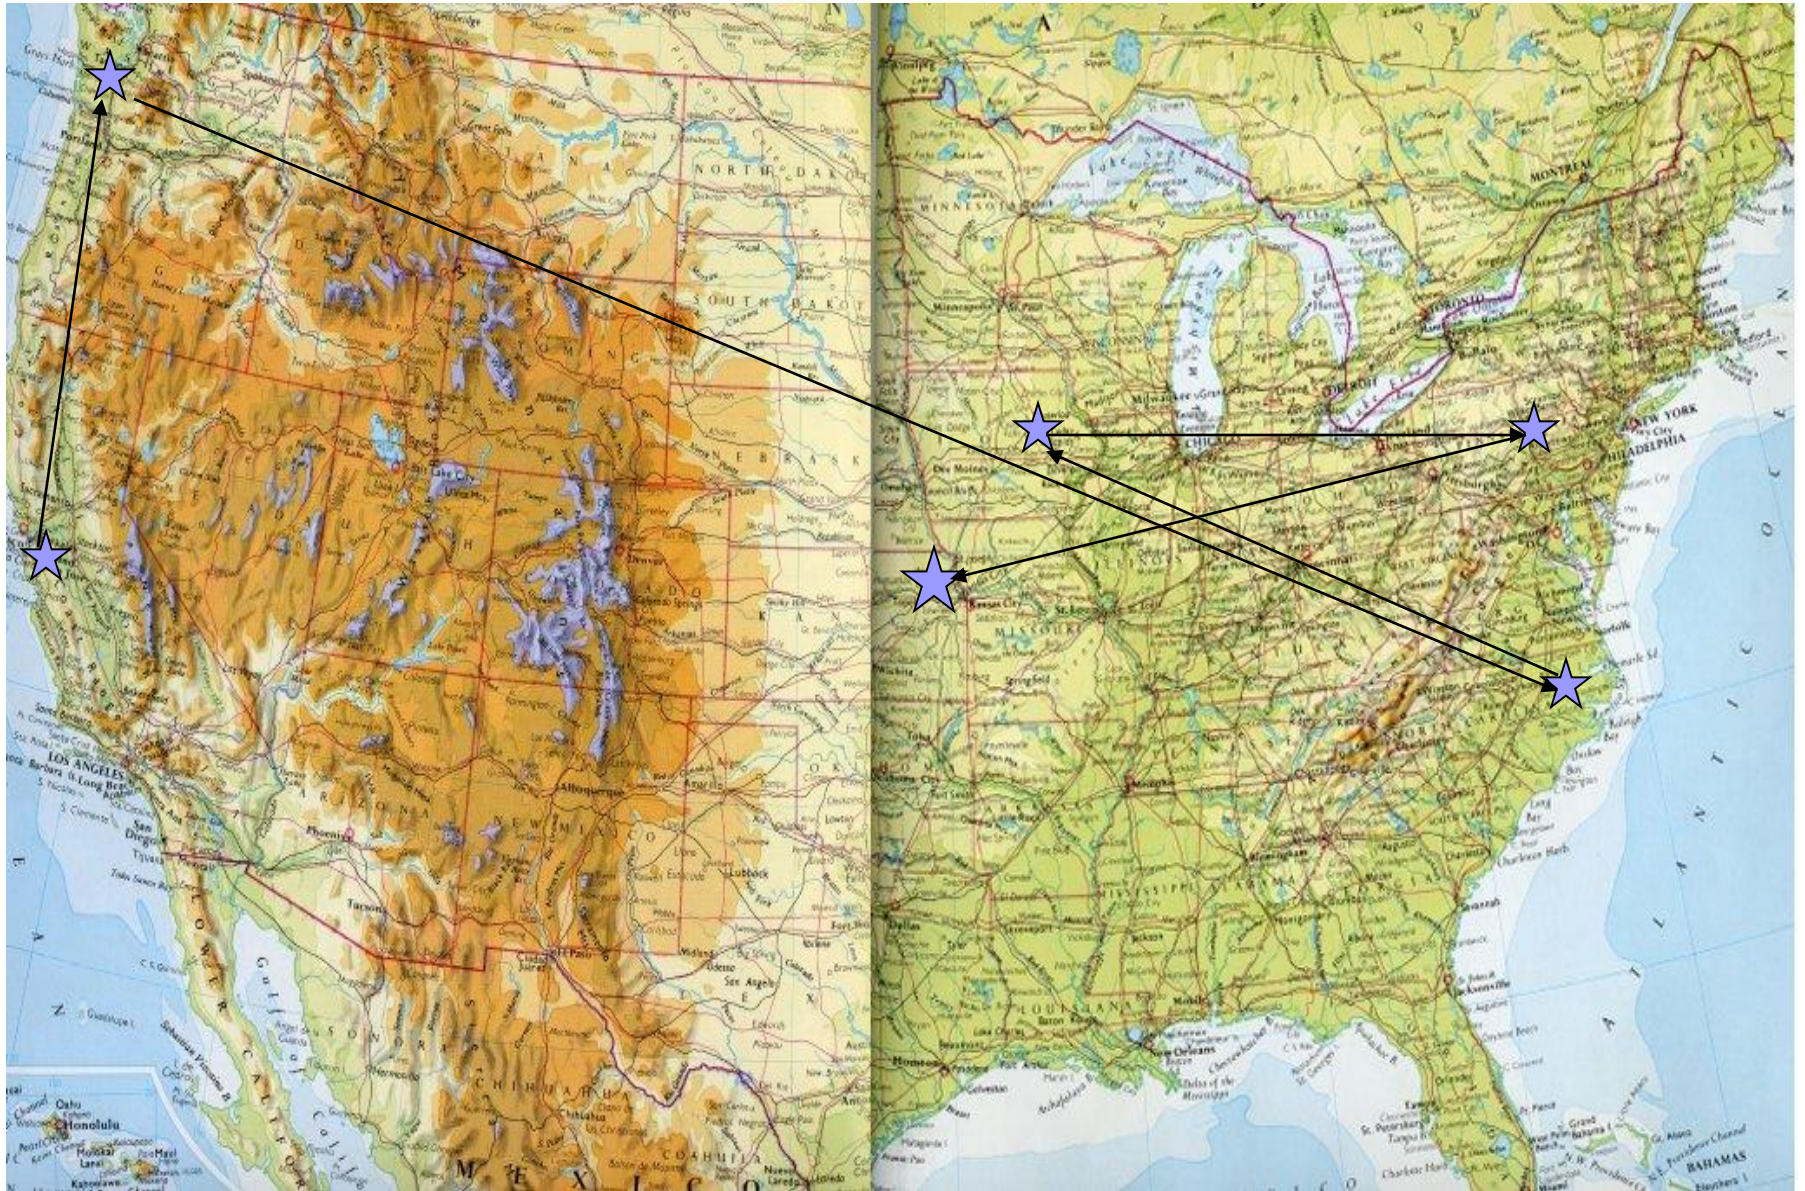

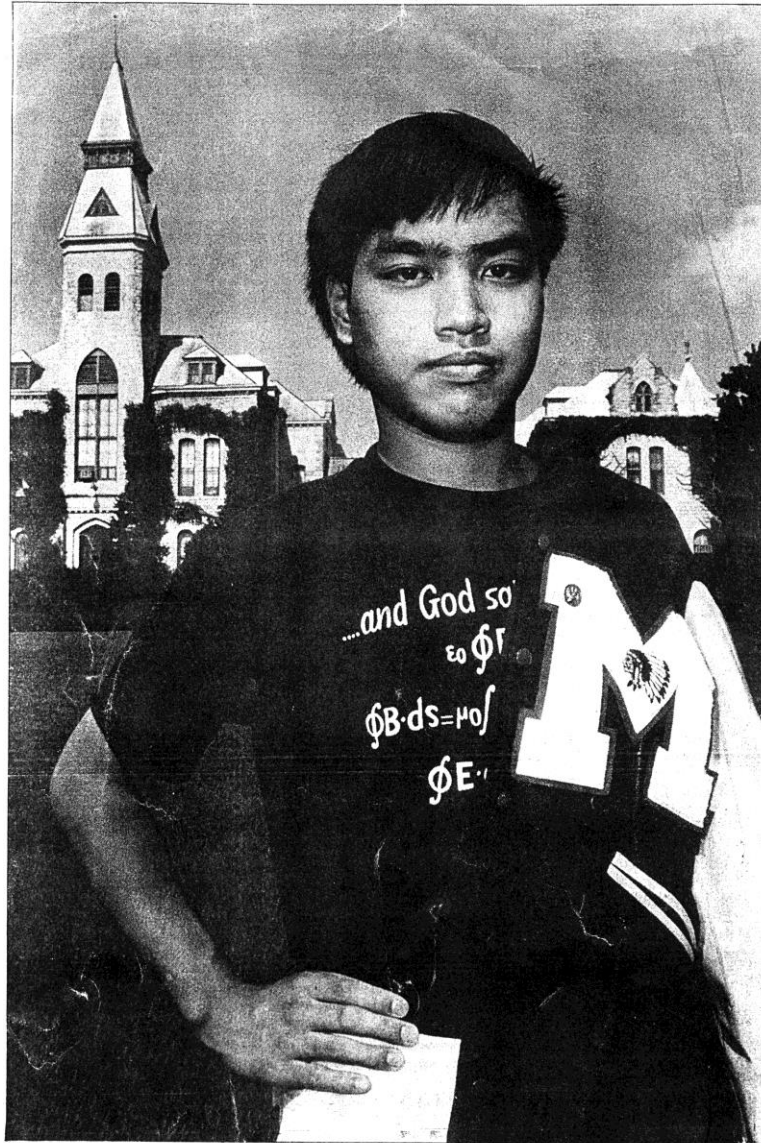

After graduating from Manhattan High School, Francis Fung, Manhattan, will enroll at K-State this fall at the age of 15. Fung has completed 35 credit hours and may quiz out of 14 more, giving him junior-level status.

What I do

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Bassett

Academic Courses

- Food Microbiology FDSCI 607
- Food Fermentation FDSCI 811
- Food Toxicology FDSCI 915
- Food Science Seminar
- Rapid Methods FDSCI 713
- Taught more than 17,000 students at Pennsylvania State University and Kansas State University

Sources of Funding

- USDA Food Safety Consortium
- National Science Foundation
- Pork Board
- Dried Plum Board
- Food Industries
- Natick Laboratories
- Etc.

Research and Accomplishments

- Completed 32 Ph.D., 64 M.S. Students as Major Professor
- 100th Graduate Student on the way!
- Published more than 400 refereed journal articles, book chapters, books, U.S. Patents, etc.
- Published more than 400 abstracts, proceeding articles, popular items, etc.
- Editor of Journal of Rapid Methods and Automation in Microbiology
- Associate Editor of Comprehensive Review of Food Science and Food Safety

Awards and Recognitions

- Won more than 50 awards
- Most important is

Gamma Sigma Delta

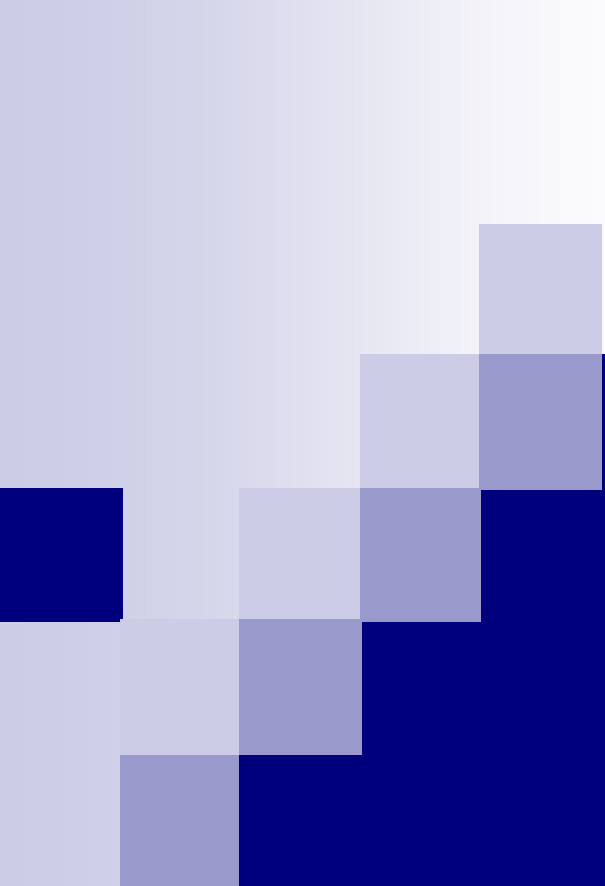

1993

International Award

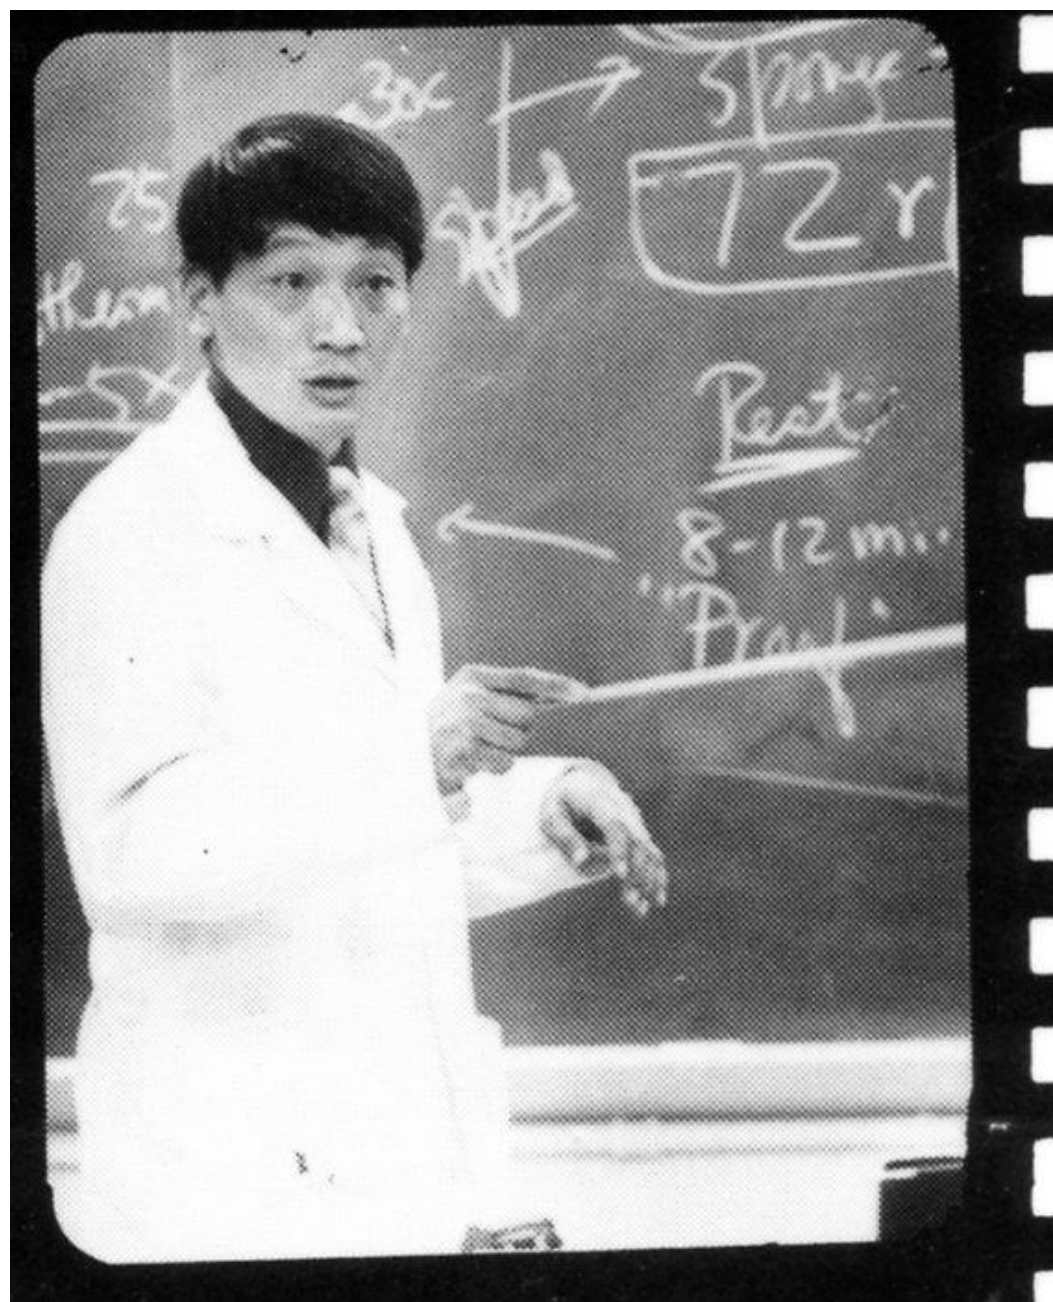

for

Distinguished Service for Agriculture

Dr. Daniel Y.C. Fung

What I'm excited about:

PASTEUR'S LAST GRADUATE STUDENT

THE FAMOUS GOOSE NECK FLASK

CONSTRUCTED BY BA. CROCKER-DODSON $\pm 1957 \pm 100$ years

Quarter Century
25th

International Workshop WW

Rapid Methods and Automation in Microbiology

A Celebration/Symposium and Workshop
Shaping the New Millennium
1980–2005

June 16–24, 2005 Mini-Symposium/Workshop
Kansas State University Manhattan, Kansas

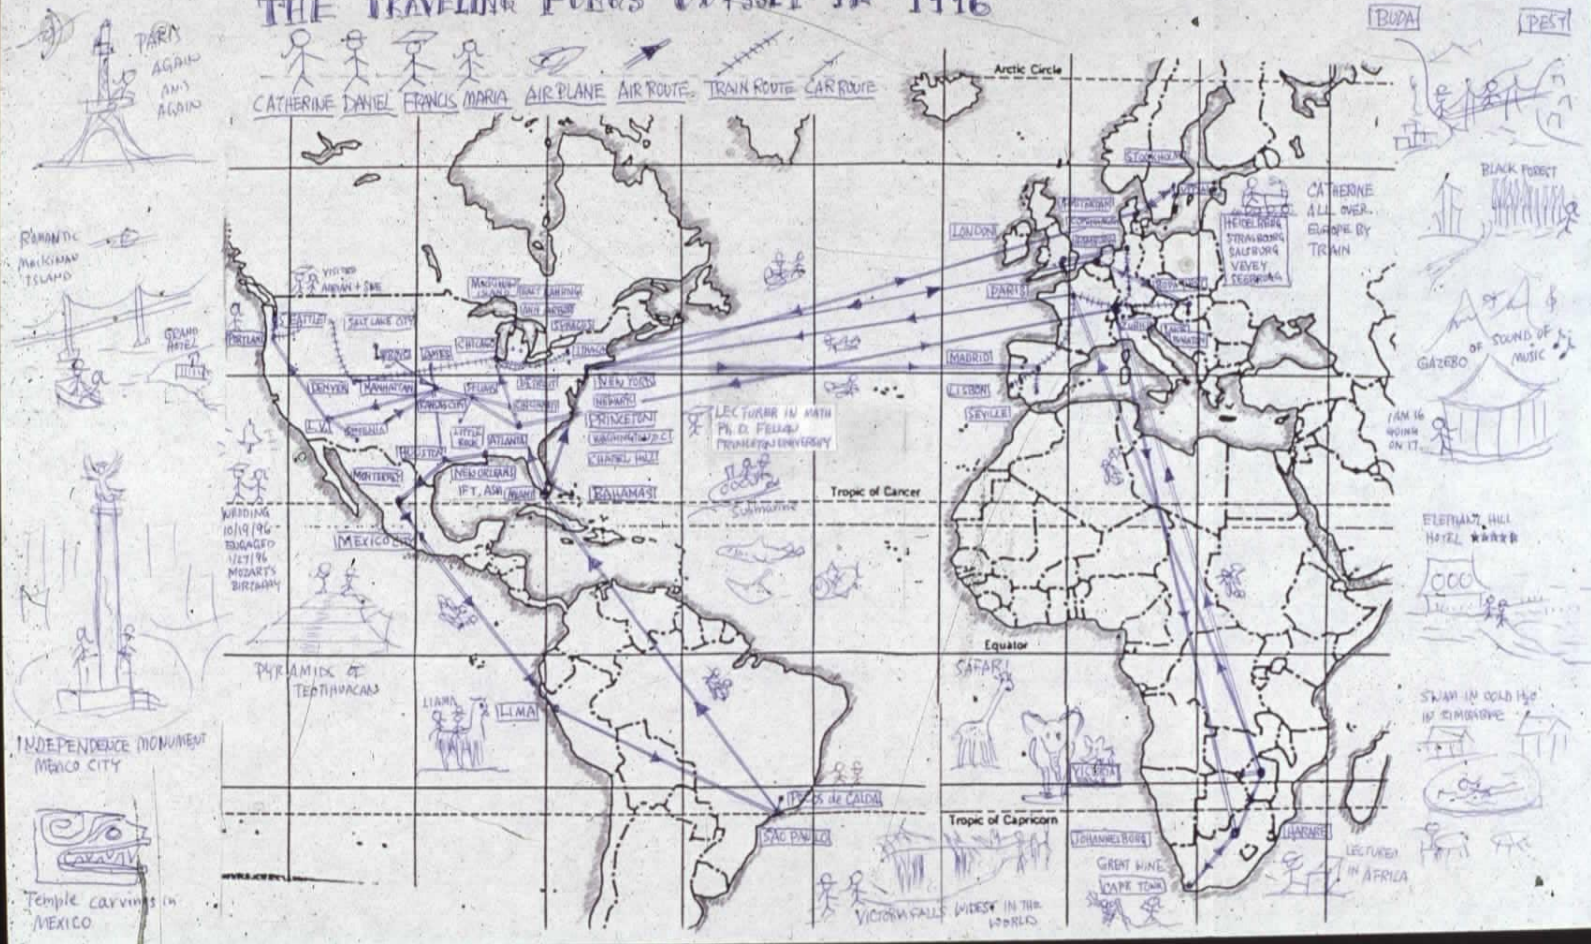

1981 Workshop

THE TRAVELING FUNGS ODYSSEY IN 1996

Machu Picchu

Iguazú Falls

